Ohio Bell May Seek More Money

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Bell Telephone Co. is reported to have said its $98 million rate increase was the wrong number and that it would seek a reconnection— within 30 days.

A Bell spokesman has denied the time factor but said the firm had told city officials a new request might come soon.

Meanwhile, Dennis J. Kucinich, the Cleveland city councilman who has requested rehearing on the $98 million increase granted recently by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio as a compromise, complained that Mayor Ralph J. Perk hasn't honored his pledge to fight the rate hike.

The Plain Dealer reported in its

Saturday editions that a city source has said William R. Gustafiero, an Ohio Bell assistant vice president, had told city officials in May and June the company would seek another increase within 30 days of approval of the one then under discussion.

The comment came in the office of City Attorney Herbert R. Whiting during discussion of the $98 million increase, then a proposal opposed by Cleveland and 10 other cities. It later came to be accepted by the cities other than Cleveland and by most others who had opposed the $164.4 million Ohio Bell had asked.

Whiting said he recalls Gustafiero and other Bell spokesmen had said repeatedly the $98 million wasn't enough, but he didn't recall mention of 30 days. He said, however, he felt then another request would be made "as soon as it was decent."

Joe Reed, an Ohio Bell official, said Friday the company "has no intention of filing" within 30 days of the recent approval.

"We want to make this money stretch as long as we can," Reed said. "I would hope it would be quite a while before we have to go back for an increase."

He said his colleagues had told the city "we might have to go right back in, but not in precisely 30 days."

Kucinich, who calls the current increase illegal and discriminatory and has asked for a rehearing on its approval, recalled that Perk had said in a 1971 speech Kucinich helped write that the Perk would "battle all utility rate increases, not just the shadow-boxing we witnessed last year." Ohio Bell got an increase in 1970.

The councilman said Perk hasn't kept that promise, adding: "The city's so-called fight to the bitter end has amounted to a token gesture."

Perk would say only that the city is working on the matter. Whiting said he is considering whether to ask the utilities commission for a rehearing but has till Sept. 7 and doesn't have to follow Kucinich's timetable.

As for Perk's inaction, Kucinich said, "we're friends, but I'm that kind of friend that will tell him what mistakes he has made."

35,000 Acres Burn In Northwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Firefighters hoped to take advantage of a break in the weather today as they fought to contain blazes covering more than 38,000 acres in the Pacific Northwest and northern Rocky Mountains.

As of late Friday, there were 19 major blazes covering 14,000 acres in Oregon, 10,000 acres in Idaho and 14,000 acres in Montana, according to a spokesman for the Interagency Fire Center in Boise, Idaho, the national control center for forest fires.

Officials also said a rash of fires was reported shortly after nightfall in Northern California and a few small, easily controlled fires were reported in Washington and in Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming.

Tinderbox conditions in the drought-plagued region have produced the worst overall fire situation in 20 years, said John Hafterson, fire service coordinator in Boise.

But he said some progress already has been made in controlling the fires and cooler temperatures and reduced winds were predicted for the weekend.

More than 7,000 men were on the fire lines, including 400 civilians flown in by Air Force transport planes. In Oregon, Montana and Idaho, the National Guard was called out to aid in evacuation, set up base camps and

Kompong Cham May Soon Fall To Red Force

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Communist-led forces began closing in from two sides today on the isolated provincial capital of Kompong Cham, Cambodia's third largest city.

Military sources believe the move may signal a change of strategy by the Khmer Rouge insurgents in the wake of the U.S. bombing halt Aug. 15.

Rebel forces for the last month have concentrated their strength around Phnom Penh, but there recently has been a limited withdrawal south of the city. Without U.S. air cover, the insurgents may feel the isolated provincial population centers are ripe for the picking.

Advancing eastward along Highway 7, antigovernment forces on Friday overran the town of Troeung, seven miles from Kompong Cham. The district town of Skoun, farther back along the highway, fell Monday.

Lt. Col. Cheam Tay Ly, 36, who commanded the government garrison at Skoun when it fell, has been demoted to private and is awaiting court-martial for allegedly abandoning his post. Ly was in Phnom Penh when Skoun fell.

Col. Am Rong, spokesman for the military command, reported that Kompong Cham now also is threatened from the west. He announced Communist-led troops are in contact with government defenders across the Mekong River four miles from the city.

Am Rong reported the situation was "difficult and not critical."

Kompong Cham, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, has a population of about 70,000. Its peacetime population was double that, but it still ranks as Cambodia's third largest city after the capital and Battambang.

Elsewhere around Phnom Penh, a commune reported government troops were "actively pressing their offensive operations to consolidate their positions on all fronts."

Weather

provide support services for smokejumpers.

By early today, some of the worst blazes were being halted and brought near containment.

Residents of La Grande, a community of 10,000 in northeastern Oregon, returned to their homes after outlying districts were evacuated Thursday night.

Some 400 persons had turned out with rakes and shovels to set up emergency fire lines, beating back and containing a 5,400-acre blaze after it had destroyed eight buildings. A city official said damages were estimated to be $100,000 to $150,000 and could go higher.

In north central Oregon, U.S. Forest Service officials said a 7,300-acre fire on the eastern edge of Mt. Hood National Forest was expected to be contained by 10 a.m. today. Officials estimated damages there at $264,000 to timber, grazing lands and livestock.

Charles Tandy, a Bureau of Indian Affairs fire coordinator in Boise said cooler temperatures and dying winds in Idaho and Oregon would aid fire-fighting efforts.

"If the weather stays as it has been, we've got a chance," he said.

2 Men Trapped 1,200 Feet Down In Copper Mine

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Rescue workers struggled through fire and tons of rock today to reach two men believed trapped 1,200 feet underground in a trouble-plagued central Arizona copper mine.

The men were cut off late Friday morning when the walls of a tunnel being drilled in the Hecla Mining Co.'s mine collapsed and a fire broke out. The mine is located on the Papago Indian Reservation, 35 miles south of here.

Dick Glover, director of personnel at the mine, said: "Hopefully, the two men are on the other side of the fire." He had said earlier the two men were "presumed alive."

Glover said the men were equipped with face masks to filter dust and smoke but did not have oxygen equipment. But there are oxygen supplies at first aid stations scattered throughout the mine, he said.

Two other miners were injured slightly, and a third fled the area unharmed.

Rescue teams battled intense heat and smoke to reach the trapped men, and one five-man team was driven back by the flames late Friday night. A second rescue team awaited additional oxygen and special heat-resistant clothing from Phoenix before attempting to re-enter the mine.

Georgia Case Test Ground For Nixon Impoundment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has told the Supreme Court that a Georgia suit offers the perfect vehicle for deciding whether the president has the right to impound funds mandated by Congress.

"We submit that this controversy constitutes one of those extraordinary and important cases which ought to be taken directly by this court," said Robert H. Bork, the solicitor general, in a motion filed Friday with the Supreme Court.

He joined Georgia in asking the court to hear the state's suit, which seeks to force the administration to release all funds appropriated by Congress for three programs.

The suit was filed after President Nixon authorized for the states $6 billion less than Congress appropriated in 1973 under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act and $1.1 billion less under the Federal Aid Highway Act.

Estimates of the total amount the President has impounded range from the $8.7 billion figured by the White House to the $18 billion claimed by some congressional sources. Nixon has said he will withhold funds whenever necessary to fight inflation.

Georgia maintains in its suit that the impoundments adversely affected the interests of the state.

Bork said in his motion that 37 suits challenging the president's power to control the rate of spending on some congressionally enacted programs, or to decrease the amounts spent on others, are now scattered through the district and appeals courts.

He said the Georgia suit affords other states the opportunity to join in protesting the impoundments.

"Thus this case offers far and away the best opportunity of reaching a fully informed and prompt judgment on the complex and profound issues at stake in the assertion of presidential discretion to affect rates and amounts of spending," said the solicitor general.

His motion included a defense of the administration's impoundments.

"We submit that in certain circumstances, which we believe obtain here, it is the president and not the Congress who has the ultimate authority under the Constitution to set the limits for the spending of appropriated funds," said Bork.

Andrea Doria Cash To Remain Sunken

FAIRHAVEN, Mass. (AP) — An estimated $4 million in sunken treasure remains in the luxury liner Andrea Doria today despite a $250,000 effort to recover it.

The costly 26-day recovery expedition ended with just a few pieces of silver to show for the effort, leaving a wealth of jewels, cash and other valuables in the hulk of the Italian liner.

Two Navy aquanauts hacked through the hull of the wreck, only to find its interior a tangle of treacherous rubble after 17 years on the ocean bottom.

Kalmbach Again Lays Payments At Ehrlichman Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert W. Kalmbach, President Nixon's onetime personal lawyer, is sticking by his Senate Watergate testimony that John D. Ehrlichman told him to continue payments to the original seven Watergate defendants.

Ehrlichman, who resigned his post as top White House domestic adviser April 30, has denied approving the payments, which ran into six figures.

But in a deposition made public Friday, Kalmbach reiterated his story of a July 26, 1972, conversation in which he said he looked into Ehrlichman's eyes, spoke of the honor of the two men's families and asked if the payments were legal and proper.

Ehrlichman, told him they were, Kalmbach repeated in the deposition. Asked about Ehrlichman's denials that the conversation, took place,

Kalmbach said in the deposition that "he (Ehrlichman) would not be telling the truth."

The payments have been variously described as a defense fund or as hush money.

In his Senate testimony last month, Ehrlichman confirmed that he discussed the payments with Kalmbach, and he said he viewed them as a "humanitarian" gesture.

But he denied approving them. "I would never ask Herb Kalmbach to do anything that was shady or improper, certainly not illegal," he said at one point. "I'd have been very, very slow to make any assurance to Herb without a lot of research myself."

Kalmbach's deposition was taken July 31, after both men had testified before the Senate Watergate committee. It was sworn in connection with the suits and countersuits the Democratic party filed against the Republicans.

In another Watergate-related matter, President Nixon's lawyers argued Friday that a subpoena for White House tapes would amount to "the extraction of the last ounce of flesh by the criminal process" at the expense of executive privilege and the confidentiality of presidential conversations.

Special prosecutor Archibald Cox is asking the courts to force Nixon to honor his subpoena for the tapes. The statement filed by the White House lawyers Friday was the final step before oral arguments in court, set for Wednesday.

Nixon's lawyers repeated their assertions that the courts have no power to enforce such a subpoena, although the White House has said President Nixon would abide by a "definitive judgment" of the Supreme Court.

Nixon flew to his Key Biscayne, Fla., home Friday for a weekend of rest and preparation for a foreign policy speech he is to deliver in New Orleans Monday.

From New Orleans, he will fly to his home in San Clemente, Calif., for a stay of at least two weeks.

While in San Clemente, the White House has promised, Nixon will hold his first news conference in five months.

In other developments Friday:

—White House and Senate Watergate committee sources reported that three White House aides exercised executive privilege in refusing to answer certain questions put to them in closed interviews with committee staffers.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler refused to answer questions about recent discussions he had with the President, but responded to other questions, the sources said. Two other aides refused to answer questions about presidential tape recordings.

—Phillips Petroleum Co. and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., known as 3M, announced they had made illegal contributions to President Nixon's re-election campaign. Phillips said it had donated $100,000 and 3M said $30,000 in corporate funds had been donated. In Washington, the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President said it had not known the Phillips money came from the corporation and had returned it.

—The Association of State

Democratic Chairmen filed a civil suit related to the break-in. Included as defendants in the action, which alleges interruption of normal activity and invasion of privacy, were former presidential aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III.

The suit is based on a telephone tap of R. Spencer Oliver, then executive director of the association, in his office at the Watergate. It asks for $10 million in damages.

—In an interview, former presidential adviser Robert H. Finch says the White House mentality in 1971 was oriented towards "planting things, press leaks, that sort of thing...and I think that's the kind of mentality that led to Watergate. Finch was interviewed for a national public television broadcast.

Cattlemen Concerned About Beef Situation

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

The current beef situation is "chaotic" and the ceiling on beef prices a "total disaster," according to speakers at the mid-year meeting of Ohio Cattlemen's Association, held August 8 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center.

Keynote speaker John Trotman, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association (ANCA), charged that the Nixon Administration's price controls have produced artificial shortages of beef, triggered black market activities, and caused an alarming upsurge in a modern version of cattle rustling.

"We are facing what is potentially the most severe consumer beef shortage in this country's history. At the same time, we have record numbers of cattle on our farms and ranches," Trotman said. He urged the Administration to immediately lift the freeze to allow the beef industry to return to orderly marketing as rapidly as possible.

"Phase Four is a disaster to agriculture, agribusiness, and to our economy," said Ohio Director of Agriculture Gene Abercrombie. He revealed that black market activities have increased in the Buckeye State in recent weeks, a number of arrests have been made, and the cases are being prosecuted.

He thinks the reported numbers of cattle on feedlots might prove misleading since large numbers of cattle are being slaughtered by small packers and locker plants as consumers hoard beef in anticipation of higher prices following the lifting of the price freeze September 12.

He said the state's meat inspectors are at work in the smaller plants even though many of the larger packers have shut down cattle operations. Some of the smaller plants used to kill cattle only a few half-days a week, but are now killing 7 days a week. Five investigators are working around the clock to ferret out cases of black marketing and other illegal activities sparked by the dwindling supplies of beef on meat counters.

Extension Agricultural Economist Wallace Barr said price controls have proven one thing: "price controls do not work in a free enterprise society. The real problem lies in the nation's fiscal or monetary policies."

Per capita beef consumption in the U.S. has doubled in the last 20 years. But Barr said the American consumers will eat 3 to 4 pounds less beef and about 2 pounds less pork per person this year. These estimates are in sharp contrast to predictions earlier this year that consumption of both beef and pork would be up several pounds in 1973.

What happens when the beef price ceiling is lifted? Barr says no one can be certain, but he expects some bunched marketings during the first 4-6 weeks causing some price fluctuations. Then he expects market prices to rise and stabilize.

Looking even further ahead, he said July 1 figures indicate that there are six per cent more beef cows in the U.S. than a year earlier. This means, he said, that expansion has started. But it will take a minimum of 2-1/2 years for calves from those cows to reach the dinner tables. It will probably take at least another year for producers to become convinced the demand and price situation is permanent enough for additional expansion.

One major good result of high prices, ceilings, and beef shortage is that consumers are getting a fast education in economics and our marketing system. As Barr put it: "Consumers have learned the hard way more about food, economics, marketing, and farming than ever before."

Trotman and Barr both urged cattle feeders to sell animals when they are ready for market. Steady, uniform, and orderly marketing benefits both producers and consumers more in the long run than holding back fat cattle.

They also urged consumers to quit hoarding beef. There is no "real" shortage of beef cattle. The meat shortage is a "contrived one" created by shutdown of packers who are losing $50 to $100 per head because of the price freeze, wide-spread hoarding of beef by consumers and restaurant chains, and some holding of cattle off the market by feeders.

All the experts agreed the sooner artificial controls are lifted the sooner we'll return to orderly marketing based on the laws of supply and demand that rule our free enterprise system.

Food is still a bargain in this country! In Japan, beef costs $12 per pound and up. In Sweden several weeks ago, Trotman said that five hamburgers, french fries, and a soft drink added up to $27 in American dollars. A dish of strawberries and cup of coffee for another cattleman visiting in London had a price tag of $5 in American money!

The Ohio Cattlemen's Association adopted a number of resolutions, including those calling for:

- Reinstatement of import quotas according to the 1964 meat import act.
- Uniting all agricultural groups with similar aims so the industry can speak with a more unified voice.
- Increasing public relations efforts nationally to help the consumer understand the beef industry and its problems.

- Reaffirming strong opposition to compulsory pricing, compulsory production, and marketing controls on either cattle or beef products.
- Urging beef producers to familiarize themselves with EPA regulations and to exercise good judgment concerning livestock waste disposal.
- Supporting legislation to tax farm land on the basis of present use.
- Opposing loss of tax incentives or changes in income tax laws that would result in loss of investment credit or cash accounting method, accelerated depreciation, alternative tax on capital gains, depreciation capture on real estate, or deduction for capital gains.

Urging cattlemen to continue to use agricultural chemicals and feed additives only according to regulations and labels for use.

The cattlemen's meeting was held in conjunction with 1973 Beef Day, a specialized field day sponsored annually by the Research Center in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service, The Ohio State University, and Ohio Cattlemen's Association.

Farm Program Changes For 1974 Open Land For Crop Production

Set-aside requirements will not be included in the feed grain, and wheat programs for 1974, Paul Moore, chairman of the Pickaway County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee, has announced.

In addition, the requirement of maintaining the farm's conserving base as a condition of eligibility for loans and other benefits will be suspended under 1974 programs. Other restrictions have been modified or lifted by the U.S.

Department of Agriculture recently as the nation gears up for intensified crop and livestock production. Producers with existing long-term land reserve agreements with the Agriculture Department have the opportunity to terminate such agreements for 1974. First step, Moore said, is to check with the county ASCS office. Until arrangements are made with the ASCS office however, the existing agreements and their requirements will continue.

Moore also cautioned that set-aside and conserving base requirements remain in effect through the rest of this year. He pointed out that conserving base acreage may be used for livestock grazing and haying without restrictions, and that many producers, after first notifying the county ASCS office and agreeing to accept reduced program payments, are also using set-aside acreage for livestock production.

All of the various changes, Mr. Moore said, were made to free farmers to go all-out to produce for domestic and export markets. Early announcements were made to enable farmers to make plans not only for 1974 cropping patterns, but also to look ahead to arrangements for marketing their 1974 crops.

Producers having questions or wanting more details on the announcements made concerning 1974 programs should check with their county ASCS office, Moore said.

Pickaway County ASCS office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Too soon, summer will be over. But if you have a flower garden or access to pretty weeds, you can preserve some of summer's beauty to enjoy next winter.

You can preserve flowers several ways — depending on the shape of the plant and your intended use for it. Regardless of which method you use, pick the flowers at the peak of beauty. For variety, select some that are only partly open or in the bud stage. Don't gather the flowers in full sun or when the petals are wet. Evening is usually the best time.

The big, grainy roadside flowers and grasses, such as seed pods and cattails, air-dry nicely. Strong-stemmed plants can be dried upright, but hang those with weaker stems upside down. Keep them in a dry, dark room for a few weeks.

Adm. Radford Dies; Joint Chiefs Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the first Navy man ever to head the Joint Chiefs of Staff, died today.

A longtime crusader for naval air power, Radford was picked for the nation's No. 1 military post in 1953 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, an old Army man.

Radford served as JCS chairman from 1953 to 1957, when he retired from active duty.

Death came at the age of 77 in the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Md. A spokesman gave the cause of death as cancer.

Radford was a famous figure in the Pacific air-sea campaigns of World War II and was Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet at the time of his elevation to the top military post.

Farm Science Review To Open Sept. 18

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

The Ohio State Farm Review, a giant symbol of progress in Ohio agriculture, will open for its annual three-day run September 18 at 7 a.m. This eleventh review of Ohio Agriculture will be at the Ohio State University Airport near Columbus, and promises a number of new and expanded visitor attractions.

Commercial displays will set a record this year, passing the 261 displays of 1972, says Dale Friday, manager of the Review. Several exhibitors have expanded their space. As in prior years, much of the machinery, this year valued at more than $6,000,000, will be used in field demonstrations that will include plowing, disking, harvesting, silage filling, and other farm uses.

Farmers looking for better crops will find larger numbers of commercial demonstration plots. For corn, the number of different hybrids is 340, up from 322 last year. There are 30 soybean varieties, compared with 19 last year, and 27 alfalfa varieties compared with last year's 18.

Crops for harvest are progressing nicely, according to Friday, who says, "We have some of the best weed control demonstrations we have ever had."

A new feature this year will be short programs in the information tent designed to tell visitors what they will see in the educational exhibits at the Review. This will include a 10-to 15-minute slide, tape, and live presentation, intended to provide a better view of interesting displays around the Review grounds. You can attend these programs any time between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Following this hourly program, and for those who wish information on "concerns of today," OSU faculty members will give mini-talks. For perhaps 20 minutes, each authority will discuss such items as buying meat, identifying and controlling insects, growing and selecting Christmas trees, and outdoor recreation. Plans call for 21 different mini-talks during the three days, with different faculty member presenting each subject. Schedules of the various programs will be available.

In addition to the usual colorful gardens of flowers, this year's Review will have a special herb garden with a completely new layout. Mrs. Margaret Coon, technical assistant in horticulture, says the herb garden will display the total use of plants in our lives—food, additives to enhance our food, dyes, insecticides, and medicines. The display will show people that some things they use every day come from plants, she explains.

A returning attraction will be the operating sorghum mill, complete with mules. And, as in some past years, the Review will feature a collection of types of corn from around the world.

Educational exhibits will be prepared by 14 departments of the Ohio State University College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center. This year, the new Agricultural Technical Institute at Wooster will also have an exhibit.

Persons with plant or insect problems are invited to bring them to the Plant Pathology and Entomology clinic. The clinic will provide expert advice on plant disease diagnosis and insect identification.

Exhibits and live demonstrations featuring many "Ideas for Better Living" will be offered in the Home Economics tent each day. The exhibits will be open from 8:30 to 4:30. Live demonstrations will start at 9:30.

Displays in the Conservation area will show the latest in recreation equipment and conservation practices.

On September 18, 19 and 20 the action will be at the 700-acre Farm Science Review site near Don Scott Airfield. Visitors will get a complete view of modern farming in Ohio.

Tickets are available at the County Extension Office, 137 W. Franklin St., Circleville.

And So It Grows

GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Do you read the labels on fertilizer and other chemical containers? Are you asking your County Extension Agent for instructions when you are not sure if a certain chemical should be applied... on a specific plant... at a specific time?

You may be applying chemicals that you would normally use less frequently, or not at all. For example, sometimes homeowners apply fertilizers containing pre-emergence crabgrass herbicides in the fall when, in fact, these should be used in the spring. Some fertilizer-herbicides combinations injure or kill trees or shrubs when you apply them to grass under the tree or shrub. You can apply too much mixture by pushing a fertilizer spreader back and forth under a tree or shrub.

Another problem is the concentration of the ingredients. There is no way you can adjust the rate of application for different uses. Applying a combination fertilizer and broadleaf herbicide when there are no weeds present is a waste of herbicide... and money. Also, there's a tendency to apply fertilizer with a broadleaf weed killer in the summer when cool season grasses should not be fertilized.

Usually, fertilizers and pesticides are best applied separately. Apply combinations only on the recommendation of your County Extension Agent who has research information on what to use and when to use it. Sometimes your lawn might do better if you just took a nap and stopped bothering it.

If your plants are "panting" from the heat, you can reduce heat damage by covering them with a waterproofing spray made of latex, wax, or plastic. You can buy these sprays, called antitranspirant sprays, from garden supply centers.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, these sprays can be applied to the leaves and stems in the spring and summer when plants are growing rapidly, at the beginning of winter, or when you transplant. The spray covers the plant parts with a clear, flexible film that prevents too rapid drying and protects against air pollutants, wind, cold, and heat.

It is best to spray thin coats at frequent intervals. That's better than just one heavy coat. In this way you keep the growing plant tips covered and prevent spray from caking on the foliage.

Do not spray on a bright, hot day or plant foliage may be damaged from the film. Once the film is on the plant, it has no effect on the growth or performance of the plant.

Acupuncture Use Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Medical Board has given its approval to acupuncture, if the procedure is performed by a licensed physician who has taken an approved course on the subject.

The board stated its position this week, partly to warn the public against doctors who might be out "to make a buck" on the practice.

Dr. John D. Brumbaugh of Akron, board president said the position merely expresses the board's opinion and is "not an order" to the state's doctors.

The board issued a paper that declared acupuncture still is in "an investigative stage" and that new devices used in the practice should be limited to research "until evidence is obtained demonstrating that acupuncture is a safe and effective medical technique."

Brumbaugh said he knows of only two courses in Michigan and Nevada on acupuncture.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Those That Get Sometimes Give

DEAR ABBY: What should I do about all the begging letters that have become so numerous they barely fit into my mailbox? I can't possibly give to all of them, but I don't want to ignore the ones that deserve it.

Some of these letters are so pathetic it hurts me to throw them away unanswered, but I've heard that some charities pay huge amounts to professional fund-raising agencies, and I prefer giving whose money goes directly to those they help rather than to professional fund raisers.

How does a person know which causes are legitimate and which are not?

DELUDED AND BEWILDERED

DEAR DELUGED: Don't assume that all charities that engage professional fund raisers are not legitimate. It takes money to raise money. However, all legitimate charities will provide, on request, a financial statement showing how much is spent for what. Request these statements, and make your selections.

Some communities have "Community Fund" or "United Giving" which includes many legitimate charities who share your contribution, but many deserving organizations prefer to run their own campaigns.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend has a habit that absolutely drives me up a wall.

Whenever he takes me out, he says: "Excuse me, I have to go call my brother (or a friend-or-a co-worker.)."

Then he leaves me sitting alone for 20 minutes! I suppose he is on the phone, but why does he have to park me at a table in a bar somewhere and then make these calls?

If you think I am out of line for being furious with him when he does this, let me know. If you think he's out of line, please say so. I sometimes wonder if he isn't trying to line up a date with somebody for later.

SUSIE

DEAR SUSIE: Occasionally one must make a phone call in the course of an evening, but frequent 20-minute calls are suspicious. And if you wonder if he's trying to line up a late date, don't waste any more time on a clown with telephitis.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 30, widowed, and has a 6-year-old child. She is well-educated, has a responsible job, and makes a good salary. But, Abby, her values are certainly misplaced, and we cannot watch our grandson raised in such an environment!

Mainly, she is a terrible housekeeper. You can't imagine all the clutter. She would rather read, hike, plant flowers, write poetry, or do other useless things. Her excuse? When choosing what's important to her, housekeeping is at the bottom of the list!

She could afford to pay a housekeeper if she didn't waste money on ballet lessons and vacations.

She never misses an art exhibit, and she drags the child with her. Abby, what can a 6-year-old learn from an art exhibit?

She refuses to see a psychiatrist. The law in this state allows grandparents to assume custody of a grandchild with unrealistic parents. What is your recommendation?

AT WITS END

DEAR AT: I recommend that you keep hands off your widowed daughter and her child. And if her lifestyle continues to bug you, a psychiatrist will do YOU more good than it will your daughter.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HENRY: Money IS important. But only because it enables you to buy things that are more important than money.

Tropical Storm Caution

In recent years meteorologists who specialize in hurricanes and other tropical storms have perfected their knowledge to the point hope is held out the destructive winds and rains may be controllable. Cloud seeding has been successfully demonstrated against selected storms by the Miami hurricane center.

Placing tropical storms under man's control could be a mistake, in the view of one meteorologist. Dr. Francis K. Davis, dean of Drexel University's College of Science, is convinced more thought should be given to the consequences of wiping out tropical storms before they can strike land.

Hurricanes, according to Davis's theory, are a way nature has of dissipating the extreme heat of the tropics. If such storms were eliminated, the tropical zone at the equator might expand and the polar regions might also grow. The result would be a shrinking of the temperate zones and a major change in weather patterns across the globe.

Man's efforts are still puny in comparison to global weather forces, but it may be advisable to heed the caution signs erected by Davis and others about possible side effects of any major tampering with the weather.

Bombing Connection

By JEFFREY HART

James Michener, the well-known author, is a supremely worthy member of the loyal opposition. A level-headed liberal, he supported Humphrey against Nixon in 1968; in 1972 he worked for George McGovern, but would have much preferred Muskies. I would certainly disagree with his policy priorities, but then so would most Americans: that is why he is in the "loyal opposition." But he is nevertheless a civil, intelligent and politically involved citizen.

This character reference may be unnecessary, but I intend it as a way of inviting attention to a short series of remarkable paragraphs in a recent article by Michener which appeared in a number of weekend newspapers. This article was a rather lengthy and introspective piece on Watergate, and so the paragraphs in question may have been widely overlooked, but I think they deserve extended meditation, for they throw considerable light on the current "crisis."

It is Michener's contention that there opened up in the nation an as yet unbridged gap over the November-December bombing of Hanoi and other targets.

Here, he writes, "we reached the dividing line that separates the two major segments of our nation today. The bulk of our citizens appear to have supported this bombing. They nodded amiably when Henry Kissinger pointed out that it did bring the North Vietnamese back to the bargaining table. It could even have been termed a popular act, and when the prisoners of war returned applauding it and its perpetrator, it was accepted as a necessary and even gallant act."

"But there was a minority, larger than one might think, that judged this Christmas bombing as abhorrent. Those who rejected it tended to be the men and women who teach, who compose editorials, who serve on boards that govern public agencies, who write books and articles, who help form public opinion and who guide large enterprises. . . It was then that this substantial body of leaders turned their backs on President Nixon, and it is they who today apply the pressure that prevents Watergate from being swept under the rug."

In Michener's view, it is this underlying fissure in the nation that makes the Watergate trauma special, even unique. According to the most recent polls, though a majority of the people feel that President Nixon was involved in one or another phase of Watergate, only a small minority think this grounds for impeachment.

On the other hand, Nixon is undergoing a kind of de facto impeachment via the televised Ervin committee hearings.

In my judgment, Mr. Michener is on to an important truth about Watergate and about the current crisis of the Nixon Administration, and the connection he makes with the national division over the bombing strikes me as an original insight.

The teachers, editorialists and so forth whom he mentions of course abhorred the bombing. They dislike the very idea of realpolitik, which implies the necessity, sometimes, of using force. These people are essentially moralizers, which is not quite the same thing as being moral.

And, as Michener now argues, those who lost the argument with Nixon and Kissinger over bombing, have seized upon his sudden Watergate vulnerability in an attempt to wreck the Administration. They have seized upon these assorted offenses and made of them a media gala, and a moralizers' godsend. As Bernard Levin, a London columnist, observed in a piece widely read here, the Ervin hearings constitute a political assault in the guise of a judicial proceeding.

It is important, moreover, to remember that fissure in America as Michener describes it. Whatever happens to Nixon and Watergate, that fissure is real and it will be around for a long time to come.

Business World

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite government efforts to keep his business honest, the fast-buck salesman of worthless or overpriced land is thriving.

In the past decade, the value of land bought sight unseen by the public has climbed sharply, going from an estimated $500 million in 1963 to $6 billion at present.

Much of this land has been sold through deceptive sales practices. Many of the buyers—looking for a second home, an investment or a paradise in Florida—have found themselves stuck with a piece of swamp or desert or undeveloped land.

But federal authorities are beginning to close in on the fraud and deception in the industry. The Housing and Urban Development Department is preparing regulations that will require interstate land developers to make greater disclosure to buyers.

The department also is encouraging the states to pass buyer-protection laws and to conduct public-education campaigns to keep buyers from losing their money.

George Bernstein, head of the department's Office of Interstate Land Sales, said the government can't do it all.

"We're trying to teach people to buy scared," he said. "We urge people to resist all the investment pitches and have the property report checked over by an attorney, if possible."

There are all kinds of pitfalls in buying land in another state through a high-pressure company. Bernstein said the industry is brimming with salesman who misrepresent or lie about the land they're selling.

A buyer usually gets swindled when he decides to sign a contract on the promise that certain improvements will be built on the property, or in the development, that would tend to increase its value, he said.

The government began regulating the industry in 1968, when Congress approved a law requiring registration of subdivisions by developers dealing in interstate land sales. The law also forces salesman to give buyers a property report.

The new regulations, to be published soon, will require the salesman to disclose more financial information to the purchaser.

For example, Bernstein said, the rules would require the developer to reveal his plans for property improvements. Also, he would be obligated to reveal his intent for completing the promised improvements.

Also, any waiver of a 48-hour cooling off period, in which the buyer would have time to back out, would have to be contained in a document separate from the sales contract.

The new rules also would require that any development with a lot sales program of more than $300,000 a year have a financial statement accompanying the federal registration.

Marijuana Grabbed By Delaware Police

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Authorities here have arrested 22 persons and seized marijuana valued at $125,000.

Delaware police, assisted by private undercover narcotics agents, climaxed a five-week investigation Thursday with the confiscation of 300 pounds of marijuana.

Today In History

-By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Aug. 18, the 230th day of 1973. There are 135 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1587, Virginia Dare was born at Roanoke Island, N.C. She was the first child born in America of English parents.

On this date— In 1743, the Peace of Abo was signed, with Sweden ceding part of Finland to Russia.

In 1943, during World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill conferred in Quebec.

In 1944, American troops were driving toward the outskirts of Paris. In 1963, James Meredith became the first Negro to be graduated from the University of Mississippi.

Ten years ago: Pope Paul VI appealed to Orthodox churches to unite with the Roman Catholic faith under what he called "a common and solid creed."

Five years ago: More than 100 women and children were killed when a landslide swept two sightseeing buses into a rain-swollen river on Honshu island in Japan.

One year ago: The U.S. Senate approved the partial conversion of the United States to the metric system of measurements.

Today's birthdays: Actress Shelley Winters is 50. Former U.S. Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel is 54. Artist John Koch is 64.

Thought for today: Take care of the minutes, and the hours will take care of themselves — Gilbert Chesterton, English writer, 1874-1936.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt reaffirmed his directive to Circleville Police not to accept bonds and waiver money for any other than city criminal cases between the hours of 4 p.m. and midnight.

Nine new Home-Health Aide trainees began classes at the Circleville Home and Hospital.

The program was sponsored by the Pickaway County Community Action Organization under the direction of Mrs. Jane H. Estenson.

Petition for a referendum vote in Circleville was filed with City Auditor Marvin Turner by Sheldon Winner. The petition requested that city citizens be permitted to vote on an ordinance passed July 2, by city council which authorized the closing of half of Riggle Alley, which ran from Watt St. to Long Alley.

The grand champion lamb of the Pickaway County Fair sold for a sale-stopping price of $1.75 a pound.

Col. Willison Leist knocked the lamb off to Tink's Tavern. The grand champion hog sold for $1.53 a pound to the Bowling Stock Yards and Marting Manufacturing Co. of Washington C. H.

Buses Recalled To Fix Defect

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — General Motors is recalling 3,915 buses to replace a power steering bracket and bolt.

GM said the bracket might develop a crack or separation which could result in steering loss but added that no accidents or injuries have been reported as a result of the defect.

GM said no school buses were included in the recall, which involves buses on short runs as well as intercity vehicles.

GM said it will pay the costs of labor and materials in checking the recalled vehicles.

"Honey, what's this I hear about your winning the lottery? Honey...?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A reader writes to ask me if there was any relationship between a sudden fight during her pregnancy and a birthmark on her newborn child.

This is a common misconception that has no basis in fact. The shape of birthmarks of newborn children are often said to actually resemble the object that frightened the mother during pregnancy.

Of course, there is no validity to this highly imaginative, fictional idea.

It is interesting that in every society and in every geographic area, there is confusion between fact and fiction.

Many catch phrases about health abound. Some of them are pure superstition. Others are the proverbial old wives' tales.

Many aphorisms about health have real, solid scientific meaning. For example, the phrase, "The lean horse wins a long race" is true, because there is a firm, direct relationship between longevity, health and the control of weight.

Diabetes, heart disease, and high blood pressure unquestionably occur more frequently in the obese than in the slender.

"Oh, my aching back." Many people can predict changes in humidity and barometric pressure by their aches and pains.

There is no doubt that weather changes do affect some people more readily than others.

A European proverb says, "The best water is odorless, colorless and tasteless." This is dangerous advice in the light of modern pollution of stream and waterways.

The fact that water looks tempting and clear is not necessarily related to its actual quality.

It is impossible to tell only by the appearance the nature of bacterial and chemical contamination.

"Everything I eat turns to fat." This familiar explanation serves only to soothe the conscience of the obese.

The fact is that everyone who consumes more calories than his body needs for fuel will gain weight.

Calories count, and you have to count them if you want to control your weight.

A saying that substantiates this idea is "Long meals mean a long life."

The wisdom of the English about the problem of obesity is encapsulated in their phrase, "Enough is as good as a feast."

For years a misconception existed about stuttering. It was thought that if you frightened a stutterer he could be cured of his problem.

This is false. Actually, stuttering can be caused by a severe, frightening experience.

Stutterers need psychological help and understanding. Homemade efforts to help the stammerer or stutterer may more deeply engrain the problem, and delay the many excellent forms of treatment that now are available.

Intriguing is the idea that "fish is brain food." Undoubtedly, the protein in fish has much nutritive value, but it certainly does not concentrate any more in the brain than it does in the liver. We all know many brilliant people who simply loathe fish.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away." Someone once said, "Yes, if your aim is good!" (Ouch)

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "The trouble with putting armor on," said Celeste Holm, "is that, while it protects you from pain, it also protects you from pleasure."

The remark is typical of Miss Holm, who has a reputation of being one of the wittiest as well as ablest ladies of the theater in our time.

Since her first role as Juliet at the age of 6 — minus two front teeth — Celeste has starred in every branch of show business, from musicals to lectures. She was nominated three times for an Oscar and won one for her work in the film, "Gentleman's Agreement."

In her most recent success, she played "Aunt Polly" in the latest screen treatment of "Tom Sawyer." Seeing her blonde vitality today, it is hard to believe that it has been nearly 30 years since she used to stop the Broadway hit "Oklahoma," with her song about the girl, who couldn't say no.

Here are a few remarks made by Celeste, actress, philosopher, and gourmet cook during a midtown luncheon:

"Acting is controlled schizophrenia. That sounds neurotic, but isn't. You are playing someone else while being yourself."

"There is nothing more relaxing than making bread. It makes you feel like part of the pageantry of generations. So does yoga."

"I don't see how anyone lives without a purpose in life. It offers fantastic possibilities for anyone with imagination."

"I enjoy acting in the theater because it is the greatest way I know to bring people together without them being self-conscious about it."

"I have no big frustrations. My only fear is that man may destroy himself through ecological mistakes or his own spiritual discouragement."

"I do have a couple of small neuroses. I always lose keys, and if I have to introduce a number of people, I never can remember the name of the last person, even though that may be the one I know best."

"The trouble with our international policy is that it turns people off. When you turn people off, you defeat your cause."

"Everything you do affects other lives, so you must be aware of what you're doing. Generally speaking, I feel that if you do something new every day, and learn something new every day, you won't waste your time on earth. I try to live a 26-hour day every day, and that's my biggest fault."

Nice lunch, Celeste, Come again.

Note Hazards With New-Style Platform Shoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Sole shoes," the new thick-platform type, pose hazards ranging from fractures and torn ligaments to corns and calluses.

So says Dr. Irvin O. Kanat, vice president of the American Podiatry Association (APA), in a report to the organization's 61st annual meeting.

"Although the new styles provide a greater stability than the spindly spike-heels of yesteryear, platforms increase the chances of a fall because of the lack of ankle support and because people are not used to that 'bucket-on-each-foot' feeling that comes from wearing them," he said.

He said that women wearing platform shoes are more likely to fall at the edge of curbs or steps. "The height of the shoe can also determine the degree of injury in many cases. The higher the platform, the greater the leverage, and therefore the potential for greater injury increases."

Britain has fewer public holidays than nearly all other European nations.

Tri County Contractors Organized

The Tri County Contractors Assn. of Fayette, Madison and Pickaway Counties held its first regular meeting Thursday in London with 22 persons present.

Bill Holton of Battelle Memorial Institute was the speaker.

Several previous organizational meetings have been held in Circleville, Washington C.H. and London. Last month at the meeting in Washington C.H. an election of officers and directors was held with the following elected:

Gene Garrison, Mt. Sterling, president; Walter Haynes, Washington C.H., first vice president; Bob Kenworthy, Circleville, second vice president; Burl Wiggins, Circleville, secretary; Gaylord Saint, Mt. Sterling, treasurer; Kenneth Kelley, Washington C.H., Delbert Smith, Mt. Sterling, and Herbert Hammel, Circleville, 1-year directors; Jerry Sheppard, Washington C.H., Max Brewer, London and John Taylor, Circleville, 2-year directors; Charles Ware, Washington C.H., Joe Deardurff, Mt. Sterling and Russell Toole, Ashville, 3-year directors.

The association is an organization of contractors to develop a better understanding among contractors and a better working relationship with customers and the public.

The next regular meeting will be 7 p.m. Sept. 20 at Wardell Party Home, Williamsport. Reservations should be made with Gene Garrison, Box 151, Mt. Sterling.

Boy Guilty Of Larceny

Two delinquent youths and five adults appeared recently in Juvenile Court answering charges filed by local authorities.

A 15-year-old boy from Gregory Trailer Court in Ashville was found guilty of petit larceny in Juvenile Court last week. The youth was charged with stealing a bicycle from Georgia Collinsworth on July 15. The guilty verdict brought three years probation and the boy was ordered to complete 50 hours of community work.

Sgt. Wes Barton of the Circleville Police Department arrested a 17-year-old Circleville boy on July 17 for receiving stolen property. The boy was found guilty of receiving a stolen purse and ordered to make restitution of $5. David Sowers, 21 and Darlene Sowers, 22, 431 John St., were found guilty to contributing to the neglect of their two children. The couple was placed on probation for a period of one year and ordered to pay for the care of the children which were placed in the custody of Children's Services.

A one month old Circleville boy was ordered into the temporary care of Children's Services on failure of his parents to provide a proper home. Charges against the father of contributing to the neglect of the baby were dismissed. The mother was found guilty of contributing charges and was placed on probation for a period of three years.

Donald Price, 425 S. Washington St., was fined $50 with $25 suspended and was ordered to pay the medical expenses of Karen Knece on the July 15 charge of assault and battery.

Uniform Reporting On Youthful Runaways

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. William Keating, R-Ohio, said a bill introduced two years ago and now in a House subcommittee would provide for uniform reporting by police on runaway youths.

Keating said the recent mass killings in Houston, Texas, demonstrated a need for the measure. It calls for the funding of homes for runaways with medical and personal problems.

Ashville Senior Citizens Meet In Community Park

The shelter house at Ashville Community Park was the site for a meeting of the Ashville area senior citizens on Tuesday at 1 p.m. Arrangements for the use of the shelter house were made by Lou Deal. The idea for the party originated with the members of the Ashville Women's Civic Club, and the staff at Pickaway Senior Center, Circleville, cooperated in planning the affair.

Purpose of the meeting was to determine if the Ashville area senior citizens would like to have an organization of their own.

Mrs. Twyla Lorentz, director of Pickaway Senior Center, acted as chairman for the occasion. An opening game found everyone trying to find out what famous person they were supposed to be, having had the name of that person taped to their backs. Since all questions had to be answered with a "yes" or "no," it became a hilarious time. Everyone finally determined who he was.

After a second game in which all took part, the chairman led in a discussion of how a group in Ashville could be formed and operated. Lou Deal stated that she felt the Women's Civic Club would be most cooperative. Georgia Hott volunteered to be a publicity chairman and it was decided to hold another meeting on Sept. 13 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Everyone wishing to stay over the lunch hour should bring along a sack lunch. Coffee will be furnished at noon. Mrs. Lorentz stated that she would bring cards and other games to play, some sewing and craft items to work on, and those coming should bring along whatever else they might enjoy working on. Principal object of the day is to spend a day together as a social group, visiting, working, playing games etc. Everyone over 55 is eligible to become a member and is cordially invited to attend.

Those who attended the meeting were: Anna Hedges, Florence Wharton, Mary Owens, Pearl Hedges, Elda Behnke, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bumgarner, Grace Courtright, Edith Hudson, Verda Williamson, Georgia Deal, Georgia Hott, Nelle Oesterle, Howard Hosler, Virgil Six, Mildred and George Kuhn, Esta Smith, Harry Dietz, Ed Reynolds, Paul Kuhlwein; Georgia Dore and Lou Deal from the Women's Civic Club and Vera Saunders and Twyla Lorentz from the Pickaway Senior Center.

The half-price tickets for senior citizens over 55 to attend the State Fair were sold. These will continue to be on sale at the Pickaway Senior Center, 430 Lancaster Pike, Circleville, until Aug. 31. Members wishing to go on the bus to State Fair on Saturday, Sept. 1 at 11:30 a.m. should call in reservations immediately. Phone is 474-4916.

Activities Of Missionaries Program For Morning Circle

A program of missions was presented to the recent meeting of Morning Circle, United Missionary Women, Calvary United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. Manley Carothers, 1020 Georgia Road. Doughnuts and coffee were served by the hostess to the nine members present prior to the program and business session.

For the program, Mrs. Andrew Goeller used the theme "Missions- Foreign And Personal." Members sang "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Scripture was taken from I Corinthians chapter 13 and devotions were concluded with prayer by Mrs. Goeller.

With emphasis on missions, four members gave reports on missionaries in different sections of mission fields.

Isabelle Graham and her daughter, Joanne Bethune, who both lived in New York in the early 19th century were responsible for organizing the first Orphan Asylum and Sunday School, respectively.

Ann Wilkins was one of the first missionaries. She went to Liberia in West Africa and served the people there for 20 years using her own resources.

Clothing Center Needs Discussed By Church Women

Council of Church Women met recently in Community United Methodist Church. Mrs. Lowell Toland conducted the meeting attended by representatives of nine city churches.

Mrs. Opal Leist opened the meeting with devotions and reported on the Clothing Center which is operated solely through the efforts of the organization. During the past year 243 families received over 8,500 items of clothing.

All clothing is removed at the end of the spring distribution and given to many charitable organizations. This year items were taken to a mission in Mexico.

Any article of clothing is welcome but the greatest need is for school children and then from infants through teens for any wearing apparel.

The Clothing Center will be open from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Aug. 29th. Those wishing to donate clothing or household items (no furniture) may take them to the Center anytime after Aug. 29 every Wednesday from September to May.

The next council meeting will be in January at St. Philip's Episcopal Church. All area churches are urged to send representatives.

Pickaway County Garden Club Views Beauty Of Renick Garden

Members of Pickaway County Garden Club toured the annual flower garden at the home of Harford and Del Renick, Route 3, recently. All plantings were grown from seed and showed a high degree of horticultural perfection.

The old Virginia-type farm home stands amid stately trees with spreading cedars forming a backdrop from the house to the formal gardens.

As the guests arrived, a coleus bed, edged with pansies, was in view. Red geraniums flanked the house on the left and on the right, the walks were lined with pots of crepe myrtle of a dwarf, Japanese variety. Also pots of ageratum, coleus and geraniums decorated the walk-way leading to the porch, where guests enjoyed the many hanging baskets of achimenes.

Refreshments were served by members of the hostess committee including Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, chairman; Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. John Mast and Mrs. H. Miller Dunkel. Mrs. Dunkel arranged zinnias, ageratum and red coleus in a basket which centered the serving table. The flowers were from the garden of Mrs. Mast.

Looking south from the porch was a deep planting of Southern Belle hybiscus, geraniums and sweet alyssum. Large tubs of blue lobelia, pink begonias and tradescantia (wandering-jew) were enjoyed from the porch in an easterly direction. Also flanking the building was a wall of impatiens.

Turning the corner approaching the garden many vivid, new varieties of tuberous begonias in yellow, red and white caught and held the eye. Varieties of coleus bordering the walkway were Pegasus, Glory of Luxemburg, Pineapple Beauty and Buffy.

Unifying colors was masterfully handled with masses of Heavenly Blue morning glories on the picket fence both to the east and west. On the north fence were vines from the hyacinth bean, Dolichos. Hanging buckets of petunias, trailing periwinkle and wandering-jew were featured below the morning glories. Morning Call, a new pink morning glory, was interspersed among the Heavenly Blues.

Gold Seven-Star, a new marigold hybrid, was planted extensively, making a delightful contrast to the tall clusters of blue salvia and the low ageratum borders.

Foliage plants of the mint and amaranth families were one of the exciting features of the garden, proving that it isn't necessary to have just blossoms for color. One large grouping was centered with blue salvia and yellow marigolds and edged with such varieties of coleus as Paisley Shaw. Best Red, Excellence, Skylark, Pegasus, Texas A and M, Pineapple Beauty and Volcano. An interweaving of related qualities of Joseph's Coat in varieties of red and green, and Iresine, all of the Amaranth family, was notably effective.

Celosia, the coxcomb type, including the varieties of Empress and Jewel Box, were dazzlingly dramatic with trailing Polka-dot periwinkle making an undercover background. The trailing periwinkle of Rose Carpet variety bordered many beds.

Planted in the seventeenth century, an old viburnum, snowball bush, stands stately in the garden. With a decided rhythmic flow, plume-type celosia, in red and gold, of Forest Fire and Tango varieties, added interest. Other plants included blue-flowered Browallia, ornamental pepper, Torenia, Jubilee Orange and Jubilee Yellow marigolds, asters, sweet-smelling heliotrope, mounds of artemisia and a pond of water lilies.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank Gans. National Council calendar orders were taken and other members desiring a calendar are to call Mrs. Gans before September. The Veterans Hospital workshop committee received thanks for participation in the flower show in August at the hospital.

The next meeting will be held at Wardells Party House on September 11 at 6:30 p.m. Guest night and installation of officers are included in the dinner program. Don Archer will give a program on conservation. Reservations are to be made by September 3 with Mrs. E.L. Montgomery 474-4741 or Mrs. Gans 474-5609.

THE BRIDE COOKS SUPPER

Chilled Cucumber Soup, Cold Meat, Bean Salad, Sliced Tomatoes with Basil, and Glazed Strawberries

GLAZED STRAWBERRIES

This dessert may be served plain or adorned.

1 pint basket strawberries
1/4 cup red raspberry jelly
1 1/2 tablespoons brandy
Rinse strawberries, remove caps and drain on paper toweling. In a small saucepan stir together the raspberry jelly and brandy; over very low heat stir constantly until jelly completely melts. Remove from heat. Turn berries into a bowl; pour melted jelly mixture over berries; gently toss to coat berries with glaze. Serve at once or cover and refrigerate 1 to 2 hours. Don't overchill because this will produce extra juices and soften berries. Serve plain or with vanilla ice cream, whipped cream or custard sauce. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Communications Workers of America said Friday that General Telephone Co.'s pending rate cases may be "excessive, unfair, without foundation and contrary to law."

The union asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio for permission to intervene in the telephone company's pending rate increase requests.

The CWA accused the firm of seeking an unconscionable increase in rates "while the nation is suffering from an unprecedented inflationary spiral."

General Telephone responded by charging the CWA with harassment growing out of the five-week-old strike involving the union and the state's largest independent telephone company.

No settlement was reached in the strike when the two sides met with federal mediator Howard Hughes Thursday. Hughes said they would sit down again together next week.

About 2,800 CWA employees walked off their jobs July 16 in a dispute over wages and other matters.

Martin Hughes, international vice president for the CWA, said General Telephone has the highest average rates of any telephone company in Ohio and the five surrounding states.

Hughes said despite that, the company has filed a new application for a $13.5 million increase, while still trying to obtain additional increases under its last rate case.

The CWA charged that it is illegal for the company to have two separate rate cases pending before the PUCO.

Don Detweiler, a company spokesman, said the commission approved a $4.7 million boost in rates in August, 1971 when the company was seeking a $9 million increase. He said an appeal on that case is now before the Ohio Supreme Court.

Detweiler said the second increase request, filed in December, 1972, is before the commission. He said it is the understanding of the company that the whole thing is perfectly legal.

Detweiler said the reason for the second rate increase was a $4 million wage hike paid to workers between August, 1971 and December, 1972.

Hughes, the union's vice president, said the company is top-heavy with management level personnel. He said the real economies could be realized by cutting down the number and salary of management.

President Plans European Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will travel to Europe in November and expects to sign a document there designed to patch up cracks in the Atlantic alliance, high administration officials say.

One ranking official said the proposed declaration of principles "definitely will be ready" by the time of the President's trip.

The comment came in interviews as the White House confirmed that presidential adviser Henry Kissinger is planning his own European trip next month.

Kissinger has accepted an invitation to address a Sept. 10 meeting of the Belgium NATO Association in Brussels. A White House spokesman said Kissinger presently has no plans to visit other European capitals. But officials would not rule out the possibility that he might use the occasion to explain to his European counterparts a new U.S. draft of the declaration. There has been speculation that Nixon's European trip might become a casualty of the continuing Watergate controversy and be called off.

But the administration officials, who spoke with the understanding that they would not be identified, said the trip will take place in November.

Precise dates have not been selected, nor have the capitals to be visited. But present planning is for the trip to last about ten days.

Officials said the U.S. draft takes a cautious approach and does not contain dramatic new elements. But it was understood that the proposals are in line with the philosophy spelled out by Kissinger last April when he called for a new Atlantic Charter.

Some European leaders viewed the phrase "Atlantic charter" with considerable suspicion and U.S. officials now talk of a "declaration of principles."

But the basic goal is the same—a revision of relationships among western powers in light of changed circumstances.

The basic points of the proposed charter call for a more equal sharing of economic and military burdens and increased attention to such problems as international trade and finance.

Youths Found Guilty Of Traffic Violations

Juvenile Court recently completed traffic cases against eight teenagers. Three of the violations were results of accidents.

Albert Wood, 17, New Holland, was arrested July 27 by Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman for reckless operation and no operator's license after Wood struck a parked car on School Street in New Holland. Found guilty of both charges, he received two suspended $10 fines, six month's license suspension and was ordered to make restitution for the car.

An accident in West Jefferson brought charges of failing to keep an assured clear distance ahead to Richard A. Kirk, 17, 157 1/2 Watt St. Kirk's license was restricted to driving to and from work for one year.

The Circleville Police Department cited David L. Grabans, 17, Route 1, for operating an unsafe vehicle. His license was suspended for three days and a $10 fine was suspended.

James D. Williamson, 17, Route 2, Ashville was cited for making a left turn through a red light at SR 752 and Circleville-Lockbourne-Eastern Road. He forfeited a $10 bond.

Pt. D. L. Daley of the Ohio State Patrol arrested Robbie K. Griffith, 18, of Route 2, Mt. Sterling for speeding 75 in a 60 mile zone. Griffith was found guilty and given a $10 suspended fine and had his operator's license restricted for driving to work for 30 days.

Arnold L. Robinson, 17, 219 Second Ave., was found guilty Aug. 13 in Juvenile Court for operating a mini bike with no registration and for no valid operator's license. The first charge brought a $25 suspended fine and a operator's license suspension of 30 days.

For no valid operator's license, Robinson was ordered to pay $25 of a $50 fine and was restricted from applying for an operator's license for six months.

Jeffrey Skinner, 16, Route 1, Williamsport, was cited for assured clear distance ahead when he struck the rear of a vehicle in front of him on Mill St. in Williamsport. He received a $10 suspended fine and his license restricted for 21 days to driving to work.

Ohio State Patrol arrested Richard L. Hartinger, 17, 1052 Lynwood Ave., for failure to yield the right of way. Hartinger's license was restricted to driving to work for 21 days and a $10 fine was suspended.

Amanda-Clearcreek Hires Six New Teachers; Sets School Opening

Six new teachers were hired Monday at the meeting of the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education.

Donald Myers, high school social studies, assistant high school principal and transportation;

Miss Cynthia Hunt, Amanda elementary; Miss Carolyn Ann Stein, Stoutsville kindergarten; Mrs. Janet Coulter, fifth grade at Stoutsville; Mrs. Sarah J. Dressler, half-time elementary music.

Three teacher aides, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Weller and Mrs. Kempton, submitted resignations.

Non-certificated staff employed were: Mrs. Karen Shaeffer, teacher aide; Mrs. Edith Hilyard, teacher aide; Mrs. Ellen Smith, study hall monitor and activity funds clerk-treasurer; Mrs. Anita Destadio, cafeteria substitute; Larry Arledge, substitute bus driver.

Superintendent W.A. Smith noted that school will begin for teachers on Aug. 27. Students' first day is Aug. 28, although kindergarten will not begin until Aug. 29.

Teacher aides will have an orientation program Aug. 23 and 24 under the direction of a supervisor from the county office.

Lima Girl's Death Probed At Logan

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Police were still investigating today the death of Debbie Mason, 10 of Lima, killed Friday when she was hit by a tree stump while she was hiking through Hocking Hills State Park.

A Department of Natural Resources spokesman said police are unsure if the tree stump was thrown or fell off a cliff near Ash Cave in the park.

PUCO Denies Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio denied Friday a rate increase for the Valley Utility Co. of Columbus of 283 per cent. The "emergency" application asked for a $34 rate boost for consumers in Worthington.

Fair Weather Rules Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered thunderstorms dotted the nation today but fair summer weather was the rule.

Most of the showers were reported in the middle and south Atlantic Coast states. Some scattered rain also occurred in the central and southern Appalachians, the western Gulf Coast region and from the Great Lakes across the Northern Plains to the central Rockies.

Macon, Ga., was drenched with nearly 2 inches of rain Friday night. Raleigh, N.C., received more than one inch.

Starved for rain was the Pacific Northwest and northern Rocky Mountains where forest fires were burning over more than 38,000 acres. Visibility was restricted early today by fog and haze from the Great Lakes to the Tennessee River valley.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 95 at Blythe to 41 degrees at Arcata, both in California.

Frank Sinatra Back On Stage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Looking youthful and trim, Frank Sinatra shuffled through an old soft shoe with sidekick Gene Kelly and said that retirement "wasn't all I thought it would be."

There he was, the 57-year-old singer who made World War II bobbysoxers scream and squirm like Elvis and the Beatles did later for their daughters. He was back on stage again Friday, in the town where he had been rated "the biggest entertainer of them all" and had brought down the house in his "final" retirement concert two years ago.

2 City Officials

Freed Of Charges

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo Mayor Harry Kessler and a city council sergeant-at-arms were acquitted on assault and battery charges Friday brought by an independent candidate for mayor.

Edward Emery pressed the charges after he was forcibly evicted from a city council meeting. Emery dropped a charge against another sergeant-at-arms.

Emery said he would appeal the Toledo Municipal Court decision to a federal court.

3 Men Charged In Clothing Theft

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Three men were scheduled to appear before a U.S. Magistrate here today on a charge of theft from interstate shipment of 641 cases of Levi Strauss products Aug. 8, an FBI spokesman said.

Palmer M. Bacon, Jr., special agent in charge of the Cincinnati office of the FBI, said the men charged are Samuel A. Scalfoni, 42, Keego Harbor, Mich.; Kenneth Bourdier, 30, Fair Haven, Mich.; and Perry Sims, 2., Cincinnati.

If convicted the three men could receive sentences of 10 years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine, or both, he said. Bacon said the arrests Friday night ended an intensive two-week investigation. Agents recovered approximately $175,000 worth of merchandise at a Cincinnati warehouse at the time of the arrest, he said.

Columbus Contractor Fined In Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration fined a Columbus contractor $650 Friday in connection with the death of a worker in the cave-in of a construction ditch. The OSHA said it had determined Jack Conie and Sons was responsible for a violation of federal trenching standards in the death of Samuel R. Tomlinson, 35, who was killed last week.

Reds Struggle Past Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The gloom was thick in the Cincinnati dugout as rookie Dan Driessen stepped to the plate in the ninth inning of Friday night's game against the New York Mets.

There were two out and the Reds were losing 1-0 against left-hander George Stone, who had allowed only two hits. Manager Sparky Anderson was pacing up and down, talking to himself.

"I said, 'Who'd ever think my pitcher would give up only one run and we'd lose,'" recalled Anderson.

Pitching Coach Larry Shephard was sitting nearby and shook his head.

"Don't worry," said Shephard. "We're gonna win 2-1. Here, I wrote it in the pitching book before the game."

Now Anderson is as much an optimist as any manager in baseball, but he also knew that time was running out for his coach's prediction and his club's chances.

"Shep," said Sparky, "There's two out. If we're gonna win, we'd better hurry. There's not much time left."

"Don't worry," said Shephard, playing his soothsayer role to the hilt. Just then, Driessen singled up the middle, Tony Perez ripped a single to left.

That gave Johnny Bench a swing and he banged a single to left and Driessen dashed home with the tying run, balancing Willie Mays, 660th career homer.

By now, Shephard was looking very good. So Sparky decided to give his coach a little edge.

Anderson sent up pinch hitter Hal

King to open the 10th. King had four hits all season and three of them were home runs.

The pinch hitter stepped into a 1-1 pitch and smashed it deep into the Mets' bullpen, giving the Reds the 2-1 lead. From there, it was easy.

"When he got to the dugout," said Anderson, "he said, 'Well, that's what you sent me up there for, wasn't it,?'"

"I was just trying to get on base," said King. "I was looking for a ball in. But it was a curve away. I just went out and got it. I guess I'm becoming a breaking ball hitter in my old age."

"That's the kind of game you have to win if you're going to stay in the race," said Anderson. "We just can't afford to lose. We've got ourselves in a race now."

Meanwhile, Shephard sat in the corner, looking very much like the cat who swallowed the canary. "That's scary," said Anderson, nodding at the coach. "I think he's a witch doctor."

Chiefs, Vikings In Clash Today At Kansas City

By CHUCK ADAMS

Associated Press Sports Writer

A clash between the Kansas City Chiefs and Minnesota Vikings, each seeking to regain past glory, headlines today's National Football League exhibition schedule.

The Vikings and Chiefs, opponents in Super Bowl IV in 1970 but non-playoff participants last year, meet at Kansas City's Arrowhead Stadium in a nationally televised contest on NBC (9:05 p.m., EDT).

Other games today find New Orleans at Dallas; Miami entertaining Chicago; Baltimore and Detroit meeting at Memphis, Tenn.; Los Angeles going against Oakland in Berkeley, Calif.; Green Bay hosting Houston at Milwaukee; New England playing at Atlanta, and St. Louis at Denver.

Games Sunday pit cross-state and cross-city rivals against one another. Cleveland and Cincinnati meet at Columbus, Ohio; the New York Jets take on the New York Giants at New Haven, Conn., and San Francisco hosts San Diego.

Friday night a crowd of 80,020—four under capacity—was on hand as the Bills and Washington played the first game at Buffalo's new stadium—a 37-21 decision for the Redskins after Herb Mul-Key returned the opening kickoff 102 yards to a touchdown.

In Saturday's TV game, Viking head coach Bud Grant is expected to start Bob Berry at quarterback in place of Fran Tarkenton, while Chiefs coach Hank Stram will probably give 38-year-old veteran Len Dawson his first start of the pre-season.

Jack Concannon, who broke his thumb during the 1972 pre-season, will be hoping for better things this year as he opens at quarterback for the Cowboys.

The Miami-Chicago game may provide an answer to the question—"Just how long will the Dolphins' luck continue to hold?"—as the Super Bowl champs put their 3-0 pre-season record and 21-game victory skein on the line. Veteran Bobby Douglass, who led the Bears in rushing last year, will be getting the call against the Dolphins.

Detroit coach Don McCafferty spent 14 years with the Baltimore Colts, but the team his Lions will be meeting bears little resemblance to the club from which he was fired last year. Despite 19 trades by General Manager Joe Thomas, the Colts are still seeking their initial 1973 triumph and have allowed 68 points in just two games.

Bubba Smith, one of the Colts Thomas traded away, is expected to see his first action for his new employers at Oakland.

The Packers, carried to a 10-3 victory over Buffalo last week by their running and defense, will go with Scott Hunter over Jerry Tagge at quarterback. Dan Pastorini is expected to be back of center for the Oilers.

Atlanta has defeated New England twice in pre-season play, but when it counted last year the Patriots came out on top 21-20. The Pats bowed to the Giants 13-7 last week, while the Falcon defense carried Atlanta to a 34-20 victory over Baltimore. Veteran Dick Shiner gets the nod as Norm Van Brocklin continues to look for a quarterback.

Jim Hart and Charley Johnson, rivals for the starting QB job at St. Louis for three years, will be rivals once again as the Cardinals go after their second pre-season victory and the Broncos their first.

Kay T Bug Winner

Of River Downs Race

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Kay T Bug roared up from the outside in the stretch to win Friday's $4,400 featured eighth race at River Downs by a nose.

The horse ran the mile and 70 yards in 1:43 2-5 seconds to edge two other horses who had battled for the lead most of the way.

Kay T Bug paid $14.40, $6.80 and $5.00. Tiny Freckles returned $7.40 and $5.00. Gulley showed at $5.00.

Mud Hens Defeat

Rochester; 1-0

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Dave Lemanczyk hurled a three-hitter and catcher Bob Didier drove in the winning run to lead Toledo to a 1-0 victory over Rochester in International League baseball Friday.

Lemanczyk gave up all three of his hits to one Red wing batter—center fielder Tom Shopay. The Mud Hen pitcher faced only 28 batters and saw most of the outs slugged to the infield. Toledo first baseman John Young accounted for 15 outs.

Television Schedule

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you with poor judgment and it would be wise to attach yourself to places and people with only the finest type of thoughts and ideas. However, the p.m. brings you a new and much loftier approach to whatever interests you and you can plan a big advance forward under your own steam.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is good to decide whether your present method of procedure is right, but later is fine for concerted action. Contact people who can help you most. Do nothing drastic in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make your plans early and then carry through in a most positive and direct fashion, being careful of detail in whatever your activity may be. Improve your social life by seeing the right person. Converse intelligently.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Meditation in a.m. can be most beneficial, then you can gad about socially with good results. Try to help a good friend who is having some kind of trouble. Show generosity, sympathy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Showing consideration for your pals and helping them in some way to gain their aims is wise now. This can lead to benefits for you later on as well. Make this a happy and constructive day. Think.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are inspired to do helpful and charitable deeds and should go through with them quickly, before you change your mind. This can pave the way to greater success in the future. Don't confide in others today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas but need to clear your mind of old ones before you can put them in operation successfully. Plan that important trip in p.m. that can lead to whatever is vital to your welfare, happiness.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure you do not think negatively this morning and attend the services that will help you see things in their proper perspective. Don't argue with mate. Then the evening can be a happy one together.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan the new arrangements you want to make with a partner in p.m. and then do just that tonight. Work on the policy level and get good results with others. Keep actively occupied day and p.m. Advance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show appreciation to a higher-up who has extended favors and goodwill in the past. Improve health so you are able to accomplish more in the future. Avoid one who has a chip on the shoulder.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to be with persons you like today, so be sure someone doesn't take you off on some tangent or other early in the a.m. You can also get much done of a constructive nature at home. Show kin how fond you are of them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Morning is best time for attending any lectures or sermons that appeal to you, but later be with good friends or relatives for social fun. Get the information from them that you need.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning may find you somewhat nervous, meditation ends all that, then there is plenty of opportunity for expansion. Join some group gathering that can be most interesting and helpful to you. Dress in right style.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of that rather dreamy type of young person who requires a good education and many friends of right kind around in order to awaken to all the opportunities possible to become a big success in life. Teach early to work with the hands, then success is certain since there is a natural ability at perseverance and fine vision upon reaching maturity. Give good spiritual training while young.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Silver Coins Disappearing

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — It's been only eight years since the United States stopped minting silver dimes, quarters and half-dollars, yet most of these coins are out of circulation.

What's happened to those hundreds of millions of dollars in pre-1965 coins? According to the Pacific Coast Coin Exchange here, more than $500 million is held by private investors. A 55-pound bag of silver coins with face value of $1,000 currently is worth more than $1,800.

1. Card of Thanks

We are most grateful for all the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our mother. Our special thanks to Rev. John Currens for his many calls and words of comfort, to Dr. R. S. Hosler for his care, concern and patience, to Scioto Twp. emergency squad for their tender care of an elderly lady, to our Sunday School classes for their many notes and generous deeds, to Basler Funeral Home for their benevolent service, and to our many friends and neighbors for their prayers and thoughtfulness, to all, we shall ever be indebted.
The May Disbennett family

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives for all the lovely flowers, cards and the many prayers during my confinement in Mt. Carmel Hospital. Thanks also to Rev. David Frazer for his visits and also the Emergency staff at Berger Hospital. God Bless each and everyone.
Mrs. Doris Woodyard

I would like to thank all the friends who remembered me with cards, flowers and other remembrances on my 90th birthday.
Mrs. Corilla Pontius

Aaron Hits 703rd, But Expos Win

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron has been so busy chasing Babe Ruth he didn't know he caught Stan Musial.

Everybody has been so obsessed with Aaron's pursuit of THE record that his closing in on a less historic mark was lost in the shuffle. Nevertheless, his 30th homer of the year Friday night tied him with Musial and—yes folks—it only left him 11 short of what's his name's record for most something or others in a career.

In that game Aaron belted career homer No. 703 which gave him 1377 extra base hits and tied him with Musial in that department.

"I didn't know anything about the Musial mark until they announced it here," Aaron said.

Bernie Allen's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth capped a three-run rally, lifting the Expos to an 8-7 victory over Aaron and the Braves.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago stopped Los Angeles 5-1; Cincinnati nipped New York 2-1 in 10 innings; San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 5-3; Philadelphia whipped Houston 8-3 and San Diego defeated St. Louis 4-2 in 13 innings.

Cubs 5, Dodgers 1
Billy Williams smacked his 15th homer to back the combined three-hit pitching of Bill Bonham, 5-4, and Bob Locker, pacing the Cubs to a 5-1 victory over the Dodgers to snap an 11-game losing streak.

Bonham, who struck out nine and walked four, took a one-hitter into the ninth before loading the bases on a walk and two singles. But Locker came on to induce Steve Garvey to hit his first pitch back to the mound for a gam-ending double play.

Phils 8, Astros 3
Steve Carlton hurled an eight-hitter, regained the National League strike lead by fanning 11 Astros and even slugged a homer in his behalf as the Phils stunned the Astros 8-3.

The Philadelphia left-hander now has 187 strike outs. He unloaded his homer in the fourth.

Giants 5, Pirates 3
Willie McCovey slugged two homers to help Ron Bryant to his 18th victory of the season in the Giants' 5-3 triumph over the Padres.

Bryant lost both his perfect game and his no-hitter in the seventh when the Pirates scored two runs but Elias Sosa came in for the save.

Reds 2, Mets 1
Pinch hitter Hal King's home run leading off the 10th inning lifted the Reds to a 2-1 victory over the Mets.

New York's George Stone had carried a two-hit shutout into the ninth but two-out singles by Dan Dreissen, Tony Perez and Johnny Bench knotted the game at 1-1.

Padres 4, Cards 2
Nate Colbert's triple in the 13th inning scored Dave Roberts and helped the San Diego Padres to a 4-2 victory over the slumping St. Louis Cardinals.

Still And Mitchell Lead In USI Golf

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — "The game of golf is funny," Bobby Mitchell said after tying Ken Still for the second-round lead in the $200,000 USI Golf Classic.

"A lot of things can happen," Jim King undoubtedly would agree that a lot of things can happen. But it's very doubtful that the husky, 210-pounder could see the humor in his situation.

King, a tour member with indifferent success since 1968, was disqualified and suspended indefinitely Friday after an altercation with tour official Pete Sesso.

A statement released by Jack Tuthill, the head of the touring officials for the Tournament Players Division of the PGA, said King grabbed Sesso by the throat "in a threatening manner."

That version of the incident on the 16th hole at the Pleasant Valley Country Club course was confirmed by Ben Wright, a television commentator who was an eyewitness.

King, however, denied touching the official and said he would seek legal help.

On the course, the quiet, softspoken Mitchell and the talkative Still matched five-under-par 67s and tied for the 36-hole lead with 137 totals, seven-under-par on the hilly, 7,212-yard layout.

Lee Trevino, meanwhile, vaulted into contention with another 67 that was highlighted by the first hole-in-one of his spectacular career. He was two strokes off the pace with a 139 total.

Trevino's ace came on the 185-yard first hole. He used a six-iron.

"The ball hit about 15 feet in front of the flag," Trevino said. "But I didn't see it go in."

Russians Leading In Track, Field

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, dominating the track and field events, carried nine gold medals into today's events of the World University Games, with the United States team far behind.

The U.S. track and field team, which had to settle for a silver medal on Thursday by Kathy Schmidt, the Long Beach City College javelin thrower, collected only a bronze on Terry Porter's third-place finish in the pole vault Friday.

Although the American men's basketball team has scored two easy victories, the Games so far have been a disappointment for the Americans, and it appears it will take next week's swimming events to restore American pride.

The Soviet team, which picked up four golds Thursday, added five Friday. Nadezhda Tkatchenko won the women's pentathlon, world record holder Faina Melnik won the discus and Yuri Silov took the 100-meter dash—a race in which America's Steve Reddick of Norfolk, Va. College could take only fourth place.

Today, the Americans have a possibility in the 110-meter hurdles where Larry Shipp of Louisiana State University has reached the finals, and in the 800 where Rick Brown of the University of California is entered. Dennis Schultz of Oklahoma University and Darwin Bond of the University of Tennessee are in the 400-meter finals.

The U.S. women's basketball team, which lost its opener to the Russians, came back and beat France 54-43. The U.S. men routed Sweden 120-31.

After two full days of competition, the Soviet Union led with nine gold medals, two silver and two bronze for a total of 13. The U.S. has only one silver and one bronze.

2 Big Perfecta Payoffs Made At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)—Limer Legs and Gee Wave dead heated in the eighth race to create two winning Big Perfecta prizes in racing Friday night at the Latonia Trot.

The first combination, an 8-2, 1-5 on Rustys Express and Eva The Great and Liber Legs and Gee Wave returned $2,193.60. The 8-2, 5-1 combination paid $1,098.30.

In the featured ninth race, Doty's First went from wire to wire in 2:03 1-5 seconds and won by one and 1-2 lengths. The horse paid $3.60, $2.60 and $2.20. Chief Dean returned $2.80 and $2.60. Victors Flo showed at $2.60.

Keystone Mite Wins Scioto Feature
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Keystone Mite, the current season champ aged trotting mare over a 5-8 mile track, captured the featured $7,000 ninth race at Scioto Downs Friday night going wire to wire in 2:02 to win by one-half length.

The winner paid $5.20, $2.20 and $2.20. Sara Flo placed for $2.20 and $2.20. King Storm showed for $2.20.

Cut-Down Soap Box Derby Race Held In Akron Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Youngsters driving vehicles— advanced somewhat beyond the traditional soap box—were scheduled to toe the mark today in the 36th All-American Soap Box Derby.

The cars that will be competing today on the 36-year-old Derby Downs track include some of the fanciest looking soap boxes ever to catch the eye.

A $40 limit on construction excluded the steering mechanisms, axles, wheels and paint. Talk in the pit area has some of the paint jobs costing as much as $150.

Money was a big factor in this year's race. Chevrolet, which backed previous derbies with as much as $500,000, dropped sponsorship of the event, and the local Chamber of Commerce picked up the job this year.

Local merchants contributed and the chamber raised $230,000 to keep the event alive.

However, last year 250 cars participated compared to 138 registered this year. Also, it is the first year that a registration fee was charged to entrants.

The chamber has been wining and dining perspective sponsors all week and is hoping to get an affirmative answer from one of the firms by October.

Cities from the United States as well as Canada, Germany and Venezuela are represented by the youngsters who range in age from 11 to 15.

Only about a dozen girls are entered in the competition.

Rhonda Coley, 15, of Vallejo, Calif., is one of them.

"I really don't feel put out because I'm around all these boys," Rhonda said. "As a matter of fact, it makes me want to win more, just to say I beat the boys."

CURLERS BEFORE CURVES—Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Dock Ellis says he believes an order from Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn prompted Manager Bill Virdon to tell him to stop wearing hair curlers in pre-game practice, but Kuhn denies he had anything to do with it.

Members of the squad are: kneeling, Connie Drummond, Cindy Schleich, Cathy Alkire; standing, Tina Barthen, Captain Jill Long and Mickey Horn.

Chilean Strike May Explode Into Governmental Crisis

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's 25-day-old transportation walkout threatened today to snowball into a general strike against the government of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

"If the government doesn't change its politics—general strike," declared Rafael Cumsille, president of the Confederation of Shop and Store Owners.

Strike leaders called upon Allende to give Gen. Cesar Ruiz, the minister of public works, increased powers to negotiate a settlement. The truckers seek higher freight rates and the right to import new trucks and spare parts.

The 40,000 truck operators, who walked off their jobs July 26, already have been joined by private taxi and bus operators. A wide range of professionals, businessmen, farmers and industrialists have warned they will join the work stoppage in sympathy.

The government said the strike already has had "catastrophic" effects on the nation's ailing economy. It claimed crops have rotted in the fields because they could not be driven to market and livestock have died for lack of feed. Allende has said that half the nation's industries are on the verge of closing because of a lack of raw materials, fuel and other supplies.

Soldiers and truckers continued their standoff in fields across the country as the strikers vowed they would die if necessary to prevent the military from confiscating their vehicles.

Three persons were injured and 15 arrested Friday in a clash between supporters of Allende and the striking truckers in Talca, 250 miles south of Santiago.

In southern Chile's Aysen Province, soldiers took over a number of trucks parked in a sports stadium and drove them into a nearby military base.

State Submits Sales, Vehicle Tax Reports

Gertrude Donahey, State Treasurer of Ohio, submitted the monthly reports for motor vehicle tax and sales tax.

State of Ohio collected $90,040.14 in motor vehicle taxes from Pickaway County during the month of July.

The amount, compared to $39,365.75 for July 1972, was an increase of $50,674.39 or 128.72 per cent over last year.

Sales tax collected by the State of Ohio from Pickaway County for the month of July totaled $76,793.99.

Compared to $58,271.54 total for July 1972, an increase of $18,522.45 or 31.78 per cent was shown for July 1973.

Police Apprehend Accused Thief

Circleville police filed charges of auto larceny and driving while intoxicated against Richard L. Kasler Friday evening.

Kasler, age 30, was apprehended at 11:45 p.m. at Mingo and Franklin St. by Ptl. Larry Jirles on suspicion of OMVI. It was later discovered he was driving a car owned by Charles Hill, 320 Long St., without Hill's knowledge.

Kasler originally gave a fictitious name of Cox, Jirles said. After his true identity was revealed officers discovered warrants were out for his arrest on five counts criminal charges including auto larceny and fleeing a police officer.

Kasler's wife Viki, a guest at the Hill home, is also being sought for her part in the Gloucester auto larceny. Both husband and wife are in custody at the Circleville city jail.

Ashville School Opens Aug. 29

Students who are new to the Ashville School area may register anytime before Aug. 24. The school will be open for registration from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

First grade students must be six years old on or before Sept. 30 to enroll. A copy of the child's birth certificate will be needed for registration.

Classes will begin for all grades on Aug. 29 with the buses running on schedule and the cafeteria open. The school day will be from 8:15 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

VFW Urges Veterans To Record Discharge

James H. Fouch of the Circleville VFW Post urged all veterans to have their discharge from the service recorded at the Pickaway County Recorder's office in the court house.

Fouch said that due to a fire in St. Louis Missouri, in a building where veterans records are kept many records were destroyed. He stated that if the county recorder has a record, it is always available for the veteran or his dependents when needed.

Mao Adherents Training Children

TOKYO (AP) — Chairman Mao Tse-tung says children are the future masters of China and should be educated properly for the role. The Chinese are doing exactly what the chairman says.

They arrange summer vacation activities for primary and secondary students along Mao's political line: "Serve The People."

Long before this year's summer vacation, the Chinese Communist party assembled local educators, Communist youth league members and representatives of government departments to work out vacation activities for the children.

Some of the activities are: giving a helping hand to peasants and workers, learning songs and dances with a "revolutionary" character, listening to stories told by old workers "contrasting life in the past and at present" and tales of "heroes" dead and living and participating in military drills "to be prepared against war," as Mao says.

Schools stay open during the summer vacation to provide students with political classes on Marx, Engels, Lenin, Stalin and Mao.

The schools also plan "Serve The People" activities.

Hsinhua, the official Chinese news agency, gives the following samples of some of the summer vacation activities:

One evening recently, a group of Peking primary school students went to a bus depot in the Chinese capital and "cheerfully demanded to be allowed to help drivers and conductors wash down buses ... as part of their summer vacation activities."

Not all arranged summer vacations are politically slanted, however. The Peking planetarium puts on special summer vacation shows to acquaint the children with astronomy.

And there are even some games, as other organizations set up chess tournaments, ball games and collective callisthenics to encourage physical fitness.

Documentary On Drugs Available

R.L. Sayre, executive director of the Paint Valley Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has announced the completion of the first major documentary film on drug abuse in Ohio.

The film, entitled "Who Cares?," can be obtained by contacting the Paint Valley Mental Health board offices, 102 E. Fourth St., Waverly, Sayre stated.

Narrated by David Hartman, star of the television series "The Bold Ones", the documentary is an overview of the varied drug programs now operating in Ohio communities.

It shows programs in action, the services they provide, who they help and the types of programs available to them in the way of training, education and consultation from the state.

Joint Vocational School Under Roof By October

Pickaway-Ross County Joint Vocational School is expected to be under roof in another two months. Architects reported to the board of education Thursday that the building is progressing on schedule and should be under roof by October.

The board examined a report on the new sewage treatment plant at the regular monthly meeting in Kingston. The design for the plant is complete and has received approval from the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Ideas on color selection, floor coverings, tile, and other interior decorations for the school from the Color Selection Committee were also approved.

The administrative offices are in the process of expanding into a larger area in the same building.

Three new intern supervisors' job was outlined as selecting, specifying and purchasing equipment for the entire school. All equipment is to be specified and on bid sheets by a projected date of December 1973. The equipment budget for the new school is $981,000.

The board heard the report on the school bus program which is taught at Chillicothe High School by James Long. Twenty-three persons are currently enrolled in this program and must complete a total of 18 hours of instruction to qualify to drive a school bus.

A pre-employment bus program was proposed and will probably be in effect by September. This program would require all applicants to complete 36 hours of instruction to qualify for a bus driving job. All school districts in the area may refer prospective drivers to take this course.

The Coordinator of Guidance Services presented a follow-up of the professional guidance seminar which was held July 16-27. County and city districts from Pickaway and Ross Counties and some districts from Pike County sent their counselors to the seminar.

Planes Collide; No One Injured

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — A Federal Aviation Administration official said an investigation is planned to determine the cause of a midair collision over the Clermont County Airport Friday.

Matthew Burke, regional FAA inspector for the Cincinnati area, said two single engine Piper Cherokee planes bumped as they attempted to land at the same time.

The tail sections and the wings on both planes were damaged but no one was injured, he said.
